FEBRUARY DINNER MEETING

Thursday, February 4, 2016

Neimar Sartori, DDS, MS, PhD

presents

"Clinical Challenges in Adhesive Esthetic Dentistry"

About the Topic:

Adhesive and digital restorative techniques can combine a variety of treatment modalities for a large number of clinical situations. This lecture will provide clinical and scientific support for the adhesive approaches based upon original research data with emphasis on techniques and materials selection. By the end of the lecture, attendees will be able to (1) understand the challenges related to establishing a stable dentin-adhesive interface; (2) how to properly bond different indirect restorations; (3) understand the advances and limitations of current bonding systems materials.

About the Speaker:

Dr. Sartori is an Assistant Professor of Clinical Dentistry at the Herman Ostrow School of Dentistry of USC., in the Division of Restorative Sciences. He is also Assistant Director of the Advanced Program in Operative Dentistry and an Associate Editor of Quintessence of Dental Technology. Dr. Sartori received his DDS degree from the Federal University of Santa Catarina, Florianopolis, Brazil, in 2005. He then obtained his MS and Certificate in Operative Dentistry in 2008 and his PhD in Dentistry Biomaterials in 2011 from the Federal University of Santa Catarina. He was a visiting Research Scholar at both Case Western Reserve University in 2010 and the Herman Ostrow School of Dentistry of USC in 2011. Dr. Sartori has been serving as a reviewer for several journals and has published nationally and internationally on esthetic and adhesive dentistry. His research focuses on preventing bonding degradation of the adhesive interface formed between dental structures and restorative materials.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Fraters,
 I want to wish everyone a Happy New Year and the best for 2016.

We had an exciting ending to 2015. The Presidential Visitation in November was a huge success. The Tau Chapter at USC hosted a wonderful breakfast with Adam and Ayala Stabholtz while the Alpha Tau Chapter at UCLA hosted an afternoon reception with Adam and Ayala.

A couple of weeks later we had a great turnout at the Walk of Ages for the Jewish Home. Not only did everyone enjoy an invigorating walk/run with a great team spirit, but Team AO won the award for the group that raised the most money. Thank you Max, for coordinating everything!

I am looking forward to our next dinner meeting on Feb 4. Dr. Neimar Sartori will be our speaker. It will be wonderful to reunite with everyone and hear an informative lecture from our respected speaker.

Fraternally,
 Yaara

REGENT'S REPORT

Dear Fraters,
I wish you and your loved ones a happy and healthy new year. Let us all hope that 2016 will continue with the upward trend that we saw in our industry last year. Above all let us pray that 2016 will bring peace, harmony and tolerance amongst all nations.

November 2015 was a very busy month for Southern California chapters of Alpha Omega. We started the month with Emerging Leadership meeting in San Francisco, where we were represented by four alumni members and three student leaders. I had the pleasure of attending this meeting and I can say we all came away from the meeting more energized to help Alpha Omega grow and prosper. In addition to our regular scientific meetings in November we hosted International President and First Spouse Drs Adam and Ayala Stabholz. During their hosted tours of the two local dental schools they met with student leaders and faculty. On Friday November 6th sixty alumni members and their families along with student members celebrated Shabbat Across AO with Adam and Ayala Stabholz at Pat's Kosher Restaurant. I hope we will get more participation from our membership, both alumni and student, at future Shabbat Across AO events. I welcome any ideas and suggestions from our members as to how to increase participation in this event as well as all other meetings and events.

Fraternally,
Ron Saidara
